Diver's Umbilical

Fibrolite and Fibron - Umbilicals and hoses comprising air, pneumo hoses & communication cable's.

Diveline - Diving Umbilicals, Comms Cables, Video Cables, Power Cables – Any Lengths , Terminated And Certified.

Aquaflow Umbilicals

Lightweight, ultra flexible and kink resistant, Aquaflow Umbilicals are ideal for breathing gas supply, comms and pneumo service for surface demand umbilicals. They can be produced in production runs up to 740 meters long and can be over extruded or braided for additional protection against abrasion and use in contaminated waters.

The unique materials and cabled "rope-like" construction combine to produce the most flexible, controlled buoyancy umbilicals available today. The umbilicals have no need for tape, the repairs are much reduced and they have a longer life. They keep the professional diver safer and more efficient both while diving and on deck. They will ultimately reduce costs for the operator.

As with all products produced by Umbilicals International, we use the highest quality materials and workmanship and offer both competitive pricing and unmatched service to our clients worldwide. UI invites you to visit our website or contact us directly so that we can assist you with all your Diving Umbilical needs.
